A Special Message from Christ the King.

Meet the Watts, our adopted family from Altha, Florida. Josh, Carol, EJ (age 7) and Kara (age 4) have finally received their FEMA assistance payment and are deciding whether to build a "tiny house" on their property or purchase an RV for the site. We may be able to assist with carpentry skills if they decide to build. Josh, fortunately, works in construction, so he has had steady employment with the demand for contractors.

In the meantime, another organization is providing toys and clothing for the children's Christmas. Christ the King will provide gifts for the adults, including Josh's mother who has been housing the family since their trailer was destroyed.

We will have other ways to support the Watts as they move forward rebuilding their home, so stay tuned. In the meantime, please keep them in your prayers.

In other news, thank you for the generous response to my request for blankets and coats. We delivered 3 car loads' full to Blountstown last weekend, to help replenish their stock. Several parishioners helped sort and organize at the clothing distribution center. The center has NO need for additional clothing at this time, although they may send specific requests in the future.

I remain so grateful for the generosity and love you've shown to those affected by Hurricane Michael.

Blessings,
Libby Fisher
